

SOUTH BISBEE'S NEW SHAFT

WILL VERY SOON SHIP ORE

Contract Has Already Been Let
for Some very Extensive Improvements.

The South Bisbee mining property is to be developed on a larger scale than formerly. Peter Johnson and Maurice Denn will put a new force of men at work sinking a shaft on the Uncle Sam Number Two, a claim of the South Bisbee group. The contract is for a shaft 600 feet in depth. The claim on which the sinking is to be done has been developed only on a very small scale, but it contains the finest surface croppings ever seen in this district. Today the contractors will begin the construction of a road to the site of the new operations. The location of the intended work is situated about one and one-quarter miles in a southerly direction from the Holbrook shaft, about one-quarter of a mile from the South Bisbee hoist, and nearly 3000 feet to eastward of the White Tail Deer.

The winze sinking from the north drift on the seven hundred foot level of the South Bisbee mine is still in ledge matter and more or less ore of good grade. The winze has passed through a body of good ore and it should lose the present promising formation as it goes down. It will be abandoned and drifting will be commenced from the ore encountered, at a depth of twenty six feet below the level. The entire formation of the South Bisbee mine is changing with development from lime rock of flint like hardness to a broken formation containing clay and black manganese, thus greatly facilitating the opening of the ground. The company will commence shipping ore two weeks from now, from which date the shipment of ore will continue steadily.

Naco Items.

Dr. Shaw has been in Naco several days, passing cattle.

Mr. Eugene McMakin spent Sunday at Naco with his family.

Mrs. Maurice High of Bisbee has been a guest of the Naco hotel.

Murphy's Naco restaurant is a thing of beauty since it received its new coat of paint.

Rev. Jose M. Silva and servants stayed at Naco a few days, en route to Hermosillo.

Mayor B. J. O'Reilly has let the contract for the erection of a new office for himself at Naco.

B. F. Graham is about to erect a fine residence in the border town. He has been improving for a year past the site of his future home.

Henkel, the proprietor of the "Hole in the Wall," was in Naco on a business trip yesterday. He was impressed by the extensive arrangements being made for a continuance of railroad construction on the Nacosari & Gulf. He also reported that a cooling shower laid the dust for Sunday at the thriving border town.

Improvement.

A. K. Wardell is erecting a residence in South Bisbee.

The Copper Queen's new wagon is being somewhat revised as to brakes by Tom Tate. Mr. Tate is also repairing one of the Nacosari stages.

Medigovich and Noble are building a substantial stone foundation in Brewery avenue for a row of houses to be erected there in the near future.

Rudolph Herman has placed an order with the J. H. Jack lumber company for material to build an extensive addition to his residence on Clarendon Heights.

Dan Hagan has changed his original plan concerning the house building for him on Brewery Avenue. Instead of being a one-story house it will be a double-deck structure.

Behrend and Markey have purchased the lunch counter adjoining their place of business from its former proprietors, R. J. Moberly and Olaf Erickson and have joined it to the Good Fellows' Grotto, making of it a large and well ventilated restaurant.

In The Court.

Felix Betran was allowed by Justice Williams to retire for a brief vacation to the Hotel d'Graham. It was insinuated that Senior Betran was not sober. It was furthermore intimated that he was not orderly.

John Reiden and Nick Metgovich will be haled forthmost the magistrate today to explain the whyness of a recent winking seance indulged in by them.

Mining Deal.

Thomas McGraw, son of the mining capitalist of that name, is registered at the Bessemer. Mr. McGraw and his father bonded a Mexican mine a few weeks ago for $150,000 and disposed of it within six weeks at a profit of $75,000. McGraw Sr., is a life-long acquaintance and friend of the Dodges and others of the main stockholders of the Copper Queen.

Departures.

Sheriff Scott White pulled out this morning.

M. D. Scribner went to Tombstone this forenoon.

Mr. Goodrich and family went away this morning.

Joe Schwartz leaves today on a short business trip to Mexico.

Rev. F. S. Eastman left today. He will remain away until August.

Charles Burke, the witty comedian, has taken a run down to Benson today.

Rev. A. Elliott, who was associated with the Rev. Eastman, has gone to Montreal, Canada.

Mr. Bier, a knight of the grip, representing a St. Louis butchers' supply house, was an outgoing passenger this morning.

E. Abrahams, a liquor and cigar man, and L. M. Stern, another commercial travelling man, were outgoing passengers today.

Charles Ashnell, who works in the smelter at Cananea, has been in Bisbee for a few days' visit. He returned to Cananea this morning.

The Scotch.

And their bagpipes are all right for advertising Scotch oats. We are advertising our business in a more legitimate and pleasant way. The "Swede Kid" will tell you how he won $40.00 last night with a slick quarter. We have money left. Come and get some while it's easy. The Bisbee Progressive Policy association. Drawings daily at 2:30 in the afternoon and 8:30 p. m.
SHATTUCK & JONES, Proprietors.

The Forrester.

W. H. Uber, deputy supreme chief ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters is visiting court Bisbee this week. During his visit the court will admit new members at a ($3.00) fee which includes medical certificates. Mr. Uber says that at Phenix Tucson and even Maricopa, where he has lately been, the rise of the REVIEW is exciting most favorable comment.

Railroad Disaster.

Two flat cars, one loaded with rock, broke away from the rest of the train on the grade behind the smelter yesterday and arrived in an obvious hurry against the bank at the lower end of the track. Close observers are of the opinion that the cars stopped when they struck the bank. Anyhow, to paraphrase William Corkscrew Staehle's words in relating his motions after being struck by Martin Costello, they arrived against the bank.

DOC. JONES

WAS A DAISY

PAINTED THE PAINTER'S BUGLE

Then He Went to Tucson and Deliberately Broke into Jail.

"Doctor" Jones, variously alias as Jansen, Janders, Snodgrass, Sneezer, and so on, ad infinitum, has given Artist Anthony, of Naco a jarring object lesson to assist him in his future study of human nature. The wily medico, who had all the outer indices of a gentleman and a scholar, came to Naco recently and put up at the best hotel in the city, the Hotel Naco. The suave and genial anatomical mechanic gained the confidence of many citizens of the line city, among them Artist Anthony. The doctor agreed to cure a cancer which was annoying the man of the brush; the remuneration to be fifty sinkers, coin of the realm. The cancer was on Anthony's nose. He painted the painter's nose-piece with iodine, drew thirty-five dollars as a retainer, and moseyed off to the ancient pueblo of Tucson. When last heard of he was in durance ville in the old town, charged with an unmentionable crime. If ever he gets out of jail he would better go in a direction diametrically opposite to Naco; if Anthony ever gets hold of the slippery disciple of Esculapius he will kick him on the bosom of his trousers and then proceed to paint him all the colors of the spectrum.

Arrivals.

Mayor B. J. O'Reilly was visiting in Bisbee Saturday.

Tim Maloney and Mr. Toohey were up from Naco yesterday.

Mrs. A. G. Matteson, wife of the REVIEW's head pressman, arrived yesterday with Mr. Matteson, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Matteson are registered at the Congress.

Was a Scorcher.

Dr. Chambers is back from the territorial Democratic convention. Doc says it was a fearfully torrid affair even though it did conclude without murder. He says he did not think a territory could kick up such a political disturbance.

More Cobre Grande.

In speaking of his recent trouble to a Republican reporter, Mr. Wood says: "A paragraph now circulating among western newspapers states that the decision of the Mexican courts are adverse to the Cobre Grande Copper company's interest and that everything has been decided against that company. As a matter of fact, the truth of which can be proved by court records, the courts of Mexico have rendered seven decisions, only one of which was adverse to the Cobre Grande Copper company, the other six being in favor of that company. On the point of property rights and ownership, there have been four decisions rendered in favor of the Cobre Grande Copper company, one of these being decided by unanimous vote of the supreme court of Mexico, in the City of Mexico.

"The one adverse decision, above referred to, had no other end in view and effected no other phase of the case, than to repeal the decision of imprisonment against our chief opponent."

Saw The Big Shiver.

A letter from Otto Von Kanel, who is visiting the City of Mexico, states that the recent earthquake created a panic in the southern metropolis. Telegraph poles swayed like wind-tossed reeds, houses toppled bricks and mortar from their walls, streets heaved like the ocean's swell, and the people huddled together in the centers of the plazas in terror. Otto says one earthquake goes a long way with him. He's no seismological hog.
